TOURNAMENT DIRECTOR DISCRETION

- 3.15. The game begins with the dealer collecting and shuffling all the cards. Any bet increase flagged by the tournament's Computerized Management System will take place after the in-progress lot has been completed.
- 3.16. In the event that a player is not in his seat at the end of the deal by the dealer (the last card has been dealt) then he loses the right to participate in that hand.
- 3.17. Each player's chips remain on the table, in such a way that the highest value is visible to all players. This must continue, until each game period is completed. The casino reserves the right to remove chips from the table, that have been deliberately hidden.
- 3.18. Participants active in a "hand", have the right to ask the amount of chips available to another active participant in the same "hand". If a participant does not wish to reveal this information, the dealer counts the chips and answers the question.
- 3.19. Should all participants in the same "hand", go all-in and there's no further betting, it is mandatory the show all cards faced up in order for the dealing to be continued.
- 3.20. Only tournament chips can be used in the game.
- 3.21. Should, during the same "hand", two (or more) participants of the same table are eliminated from the game, the positions occupied by them, in the tournament ranking, are proportional to the amount of chips they held, before the commencement of that particular "hand" (the one during which they were eliminated).
- 3.22. Should, during the same "hand", two participants from different tables are eliminated from the game, they occupy the same ranking position in the tournament, regardless the amount of chips they had, before the commencement of the specific "hand" (the one during which they were eliminated).
- 3.23. When the number of the remaining participants, in two or more tables of the same tournament, exceeds the permit by one, the number of participants determined by tournament terms, share the prize, either equally or depending on the total amount/points of the chips held by each player at the end of the tournament, then the dealer of each table must deal the cards of each hand at his table at the same time with the dealers of the other tables (hand for hand).
- 3.24. During race off process, each player receives a maximum of one chip. The process begins from the first player positioned to the left of the dealer BUTTON and includes all players who hold lower value chips.

- 3.25. Players are not allowed to leave the table until the dealer has completed the initial deal. The dealer, after having completed the initial deal and before starting the hand, collects the cards from all empty positions. Mandatory and blind bets are collected and placed in the pot.
- 3.26. To ensure a smooth operation, the casino has the right to move players from one table to another in order to maintain balance between tables, as follows:
Before the race off process of 100-point chips and 500-point chips or until the closure of late registration, the difference between two players, from table to table, is acceptable. However, after the 100-point and 500-point chips race off process or after the closure of late registration the difference between tables is balanced, when feasible. In addition, for the above reason, the casino reserves the right to cease the tournament on the table with the fewest players, until the players' transfer from one table to another is completed.
- 3.27. Each player has two minutes to act. After this interval, any active or non-active player of the table, has the right to request "time". The one player whose turn is to play, will be given an additional minute to decide. If after this one minute the player has not yet made a decision, a ten-second countdown takes place and if exceeded, the player's card (hand) is void.
- 3.28. On the second day (day 2) the shot clock regulation will be activated. Each player will have 20 seconds to answer before the flop opens and if no bet has been made. If there is a bet then he will have 30 seconds to answer. After the flop, each player's time is 30 seconds always. Each player will be given a number of 5 30-second time bank cards, each of which can be used by each player whenever he sees fit that it needs additional time to decide. When we reach the final table then the last nine players have 10 new time cards at their disposal.
- 3.29. Ante bets are placed on each round by the player who is required to place a big blind bet and must be equal to the big blind bet. In case the player does not have enough chips for both bets, "BIG BLIND" is given priority and can only claim the amount they have bet.

- 4.1. When the game begins, the dealer of each table hands the players a Bounty Chip.
- 4.2. As soon as a player announces their intention to go "All-In" they place their Bounty Chip in front of them. In case of disqualification, the disqualified player's Bounty Chip is handed over to the winner of the pass. Half is placed in front of them along with their previous ones and the other half will be handed to them by the Croupier to keep them off the table. When during the distribution of the bounty chips a single €5 chip appears, then it is added to the amount of the chips remaining in front of the player who won them.
- 4.3. If there is an "All-in" with more than two players, the eliminated player's Bounty Chip is handed over to the player who wins the relevant pot and not necessarily the best hand in the pass.
